NOTABLE HOME AT JAMESTOWN

HOME OF THE AMBLERS, JAMESTOWN.

One of the most notable of all Virginia homes was that of the Amblers on Jamestown Island.

The first Ambler house was built probably in 1640. While it has been partially burned several times it has always till now been rebuilt on the same spot with the same material so far as possible. Its builder was Wm. Cary, the great-grandfather of Mary Cary, who was courted in vain by George Washington. This house was doubtless destroyed for the first time in 1676 during Bacon's rebellion. It has been twice or more times destroyed since that time, the last time not more than ten years ago. It remains a heap of ruins and broken and charred walls.

One of the last residents of the house was Mrs. Edward E. Barney, who had the generosity to present all the land in the immediate vicinity of the old church tower to the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. This is about twenty-three acres, altogether. Many stories of romantic interest center about the old Ambler house. Many of the Amblers are now living at Jamestown. When Mrs. Barney lived there she entertained generously and parties who went on excursions to the place were invited in and hospitably treated. On one occasion a large company went there from a neighboring county and a storm coming up they danced the entire afternoon in the hall of the old Ambler house. This was but a short time before the fire Mr. George S. Cook took the photograph from which the accompanying cut was made.

HEAVY WEEK IN THE LEGISLATURE

Senate to Tackle Corporations and Finance—House Work.

There is every prospect for a heavy week in legislative circles, and it is expected that some spirited debates will take place, especially on the Senate side. That body, which has been heretofore meeting at noon, will meet from now on at 10 o'clock, and will consider the intricate subjects of corporations and finance and taxation for the next month at least. The House has passed through the three incidents to the consideration of these measures, but has by no means completed all of its heavy work. Many standing committees will report to the House within the next few weeks, and for the next ten days there is enough work on the calendar to keep the body busy. The House will meet at noon to-morrow, but will resume its 10 o'clock sessions on Tuesday.

The Senate will meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow, and will take up the bill defining the powers and duties of the new Corporation Commission, which has already passed the House, and the omnibus revenue bill will come up as a special and continuing order at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday, and over this will come a "lug of war." The amendment embodying the principles of the Mann bill will cause a big fight, as will also a great many others, and the bill may be on the calendar for many weeks.

The Legislature will likely be here until the first of July, if not later.

SAYS RELIEF IS NEEDED

Mr. Owen Discusses His Commission Merchants' Bill.

Hon. John J. Owen, of Prince Edward, in discussing his bill to amend the laws in relation to commission merchants, said:

"I have received many letters from various sections in the State asking me to push my bill in regard to commission merchants. I want to say to the many friends of the bill that I propose to do all in my power to push it and to secure its passage. The bill will be considered by the Committee on Courts of Justice Monday evening next at 4 o'clock. "It is not my desire to do anything to injure the business of an honest man, nor do I believe that all commission men are unfair or dishonest in their dealings. Yet from the number of complaints I have received from every section of the State I am forced to believe that the humble shipper of farm produce needs more protection and a wider field for investigation when he has cause to think he has been treated unfairly. The farmers, as a class, are the most conservative people in the State. They have made but few demands upon the lawmakers for protection, and when you hear the demand coming from every county in the State, pushing your bill, it is what we have needed for many years. You may know there is something 'rotten in Denmark.'"

Mr. Snapp, who lives about two miles from Scottsville, has been greatly afflicted recently. About a week ago a daughter about fourteen years of age died, and a few days later a son about twenty-one years of age. Mr. Snapp came here from the Valley of Virginia, and just before leaving the Valley his property was destroyed by fire. About two or three months ago he was again visited by fire, which destroyed the house in which he was living, with considerable household furniture.

GROWING LEE DISTRICT

Many Handsome Homes Now Under Construction—Others Contemplated.

No section of the city is so fast being built up as the new and growing section of Lee District. Last year the number of houses erected there far surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine, and the present year, from present indications, bids fair to surpass that of the past.

One going out to the monument sees handsome homes being erected in every direction, and as fast as they are completed purchasers or tenants are easily found. A well-known contractor stated yesterday that he had secured the contract for five brick houses, and another contractor stated that he was now at work on six homes in that section.

A well-known citizen has bought within the past few days a lot on Monument Avenue, and is now having plans made for a three-story, attractive brick dwelling. In talking with a gentleman who has invested a great deal of money in improvements in the city, he stated that he is having the plans made for three brick houses which he expects to start within a few weeks.

The new granite sidewalk on Monument Avenue has added greatly to the beauty of that section of the city, and every evening one finds hundreds of people walking there.

Four handsome homes are under construction at the corner of Hanover and Vine; four on Grove Avenue, near Meadow; two on Hanover, near Rowland; six on Grace, near Allen Avenue, and several on Grace, west of Meadow. These are only a few of the many handsome residences now under construction in that locality.

The city is pursuing a wise course, in so fast improving its streets, and parties buildings can now secure all the conveniences to be had in the heart of the city.

TOO WET TO PLAY

Phillies to Meet Randolph-Macon Team To-morrow Afternoon.

As a result of the heavy rain, the scheduled game between the Philadelphia and the team which will represent Richmond in the State league was postponed.

The Phillies will play the Randolph-Macon College team to-morrow afternoon.

In Louisa County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DUNBAR, Va., March 21.—A very small acreage of tobacco will be planted this season in this section on account of the scarcity of labor.

Misses Willie and Conway Longan are the guests of Mrs. W. T. Woolfolk this week.

Mr. John G. Woolfolk, of Uno, Va., is visiting his father, R. W. Woolfolk. Miss Lillie Winston has returned from a lengthy visit to Bowling Green.

SEVEN PINES.

Last evening a social hop was given at "Pine Grove" pavilion by Mr. Edward Grigg, who entertained his guests most royally. About fifteen couples were present in response to invitations sent out by the Entertainment Committee.

After a most enjoyable evening an elegant repast was served at a late hour. August Hyer, one of the oldest residents of the town, has had a relapse, and is now critically ill at his home here.

Miss Grace Reid, who has been quite ill, is now able to be out. Miss Carrie Lyne visited Richmond Thursday, and was the guest of a dinner party given in her honor.

The land set apart for a park is being rapidly cleared. Before the summer fairly sets in another attractive picnic ground will entice the city folk to spend their holidays breathing the ozone of the pines and gathering fresh vigor for their labors. The roll of honor for Seven Pines school is as follows: Nellie Werner, Freddy Werner, Hazel Reid, Earl Reid, Cora Reid, Carl Reid, Edna Reid, Edith Reid, Virginia Bottoms, Bernard Bottoms, Raymond Bottoms, Sam Taylor, Bob Taylor, Sadie Tiller, Johanna Wesel, Freddy Posenaw, Harry Posenaw.
